WICKERSHAM REPRESENTS SENATE IN HEARING

IS PRESIDENT OF AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION

HABEAS CORPUS PLEA OF ROBERT W. STEWART TO BE AIRED

OIL MAGNATE BEFORE THE COURTS TOMORROW MORNING

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 6.—George W. Wickersham, president of the American Bar Association, chosen to represent the senate in the habeas corpus hearing of Robert W. Stewart, oil magnate, tomorrow, will be ready to proceed at that time.

It was announced today that Wickersham, attorney general in the Taft cabinet, will not seek a delay to study the case, arising from Stewart's refusal to give all details wanted by the Teapot Dome investigators concerning the $3,000,000 Continental oil deal of 1921.

Senator Walsh of the Teapot Dome committee expressed gratification today at obtaining Wickersham, regarded generally as one of the nation's most prominent attorneys.

Meantime, George Cook, representing Stewart, announced that Jesse Adkins, head of the District of Columbia Bar Association, and John Barnett, Denver democratic leader, had been retained to act for Stewart.

The Teapot Dome committee's record of Stewart's refusal to answer its questions was received by U. S. Attorney Peyton Gordon today. Gordon said it would be submitted to the grand jury some time this week.

The Teapot Dome committee proceeded today with its efforts to trace the millions of dollars of the Continental deal. President H. L. Phillips of the Sinclair Crude Oil Company testified that George S. Taber, Jr., whom subpoena servers had been unable to locate, is in Pittsburgh today. Taber, who signed one of the mysterious contracts in the big oil deal of 1921, had been sought in Tulsa, Chicago and New York and was listed as the fourth missing witness of the group wanted by the committee or the courts to explain the 1921 transaction.

GENE SHANK, AIRPLANE LOOPER, IS GIVEN HONORS

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 6.—(U.P.)—Gene Shank, 22-year-old Morgan, Minn., farm boy and law student of St. Paul was honored today as the holder of the world's record as airplane looper. Shank on his second attempt Saturday rolled his plane over in the air 515 times, bettering by 200 loops an unofficial record of a Frenchman, accomplished with a pursuit plane during the World war.

Shank was at his classes at the law school today. Saturday, after alighting on the Airport field, the fuel of his plane exhausted, Shank attended a pre-arranged party. Sunday friends at the Y. M. C. A., where Shank resides in St. Paul, gave a breakfast in his honor.

At noon today the city of St. Paul paid tribute to the youth by presentation of a loving cup.

At least one entertainment enterprise has already endeavored to get a contract from Shank to appear at several midwest theatres.

Shank Sunday posed a score of times for movies and newspaper photographers.

Morgan to Welcome Its Hero, Gene Shank

Morgan, Minn., Feb. 6. — (U.P.)— Morgan prepared today to celebrate its biggest holiday tomorow when its hero, Gene Shank comes home.

Shank Saturday set a record by looping the loop in an airplane 515 times over the St. Paul airport.

All Morgan will show it is proud of him.

Early in the afternoon there will be a reception for the hero of the air when he arrives by airplane from St. Paul. Following that there will be parades through the decorated streets, and a big banquet.

Tuesday is a holiday at Morgan.

Franco-American Treaty of Arbitration Signed

ANOTHER RIFT IN ROMANCE OF GANNA WALSKA DENIED

Paris, Feb. 6—(U.P.)—Another reported rift in the romance of Ganna Walska, the opera singer, and Harold McCormick, multi-millionaire harvester manufacturer, has been denied.

After reports had been printed in the United States that the opera singer would divorce McCormick, Mme. Walska wrote the United Press categorically denying the report.

McCormick is in the United States and his wife has been in business here for several months.

10 MEN THOUGHT TO BE FLOATING ON A FIELD OF ICE

LARGE SECTION BROKE FROM SHORE NEAR BUFFALO, N. Y.

MEN WERE FISHING OFF WINDMILL POINT, ONTARIO

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 6.—(UP)—At least 10 men today were believed to be floating on a field of ice that broke from shore and was swept out on Lake Erie.

The men were fishing off Windmill Point, Ont., and according to reports from the Canadian border, the ice chunk separated from the mainland and the men were unable to reach safety. The reports from Canada said there was no question but that at least 10 men were on the ice.

Twenty-five coast guardsmen were patrolling the shore in an effort to locate the missing men.

Rescue by boat will be difficult, coast guardsmen said, because of drifting ice. It was hoped, however that a strong southeasterly wind would drive the ice to the American shore and that the men could be rescued there.

Early reports from farmers along the Canadian border said the fishermen apparently were about two or three miles out when a huge field of ice broke and started moving swiftly into the lake.

The fishermen did not seem overly excited at their plight, the reports said.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 6.—As dawn broke over Lake Erie today, the tug Edward E., chartered by the coast guard, poked its nose into the shifting ice fields in a hazardous attempt to find ten fishermen who were lost yesterday afternoon when the cake of ice on which they were standing broke away from the mainland pack.

Patrols of coast guardsmen during the night scanned the Canadian and American shores for signs from the lost men, but saw nothing but ice fields devoid of life.

Capt. Paul H. Forner, coast guard commander, said he would appeal to the New York national guard and to Lieut. Edwin M. Ronne of the Buffalo airport for plans to join in the search.

Lake Erie today was filled with ice drifts and the fate of the men was bound up in the crunching, cracking ice floes. Their identity was unknown.

First word of the drift was a telephone call from Canadian lakeshore residents who told Capt. Forner they had seen an ice field break away from the shore, carrying the men. Several other calls followed and all informants agreed there were at least ten men adrift.

Capt. Forner immediately drove to Windmill Point, Ont., with several men, arriving there at nightfall. Any attempt at rescue in a small boat would have ben futile and possibly disastrous.

Coast guard officials estimated the men were fishing about three miles off shore when the break occurred. When he arrived, Capt. Forner said, he thought the southwest wind had carried the men about six miles out into the lake.

Later the wind shifted to the north and late last night the ice field was being carried south across the lake from the Canadian shore.

The greatest danger to the men, it was agreed, was the intense cold. Unless the stranded fishermen had somthing with which to light a fire, it was feared they would freeze.

DEFENSE IN HICKMAN CASE SCORES OFTEN

BITTERLY ASSAILS THE TESTIMONY OF STATE ALIENISTS

MURDER TRIAL BECOMES ENMESHED IN MAZE OF MEDICAL TERMS

Court Room, Los Angeles, Feb. 6. —(UP) — The defense hammered bitterly at the testimony of state alienists here today and scored repeatedly against the experts testifying that William Edward Hickman is sane.

Hickman is on trial in superior court to determine whether he is sane and can be hanged for the murder of Marion Parker, or insane. In the latter event he will be sent to a hospital for the criminally insane.

In an attack upon the statements of Victor Parkin, former member of the lunacy commission of Los Angeles county, the defense introduced records of cases the witness had committed to the Patton asylum.

Court Room, Los Angeles, Feb. 6. —William Edward Hickman harbored the delusion that the murder of little Marion Parker would benefit society, it was brought out at his sanity trial in superior court here today.

State alienists testified that Hickman told them he hoped to correct criminal conditions through the horror of his act.

BANK MERGER AT BEMIDJI

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 6.—(U.P.)— The Northern National bank of Bemidji took over the Bemidji State bank, it was announced hree today.

I. C. C. FINAL HEARING ON RAIL MERGER

TO BEGIN AT TACOMA, WASHINGTON, EARLY TODAY

OFFICIALS OF RAILWAYS, SHIPPERS, BUSINESS MEN ATTENDING

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 6.—(UP) — The interstate commerce commission's final hearing on the proposed unification of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern railroads was to begin here today.

Officials of the railroads and representatives of northwest shippers and chambers of commerce of northern cities attended.

The Northern Pacific delegation consisted of D. F. Lyons, St. Paul, general counsel; J. G. Woodworth, vice president; Edgar C. Crossman, New York; F. W. Deguire, St. Paul; F. G. Gehan, St. Paul, and H. C. James, Jr., Seattle.

Representatives of the Great Northern were F. G. Dorety, St. Paul, vice president and general counsel; C. H. Hand, New York; Robert Cronin, St. Paul, and J. P. Babcock, of New York.

Northwest shippers and chamber of commerce representatives were in attendance.

OPPORTUNITY FOR NECKING GRAND IN FLASHLIGHT DANCE

Liberty, Mo., Feb. 6—(U.P.)—Students in William Jewell college, a denominational school, apparently with faculty sanction, have copied the New York younger set and staged a "flashlight" dance, according to the latest edition of the college student publication.

The Iota Pi sorority is credited with being the first group to stage this newest dance of thrills.

The dance is described in the Student, the college publication, as one in a darkened room, the only light being that provided by the boy friends who carry flashlights, used chiefly in finding the dance partner. It is said the opportunity for necking is grand.

It is taken for granted here that this dance, and others, was given with sanction of the faculty, in view of the fact that members of the faculty, some ordained ministers, have acted as chaperons.

Miss Mildred Fleet, a daughter of the dean of the college, was listed by the Student as a guest at the "Flashlight" danc.

SENATE FIGHT AGAINST POLICY IN NICARAGUA

TWO RESOLUTIONS MARK CLASH WITH ADMINISTRATION PLANS

CHAIRMAN BORAH ASKS INFORMATION ABOUT MARINE ACTIVITIES

Washington, Feb. 6.—(UP)—Two resolutions, marking opening of the senate fight against the administration's policy in Nicaragua, were introduced in the senate today.

Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee proposed the first, asking information from the secretary of navy about marine activities and battles.

Senator King, democrat, Utah, offered the second, requesting the senate judiciary committee to investigate the authority of the president to carry on what he termed "belligerent operations" abroad without consent of congress.

Senator Shortridge, republican, California, blocked action on the Borah resolution and it went over to tomorrow.

King's resolution was referred to the judiciary committee for preliminary consideration.

The Borah resolution requested information specifically about the number of American forces in Nicaragua; the number of conflicts in which they have engaged; casualties on each side and reports of officers in the field.

The King resolution declared that inasmuch as congress has the sole constitutional power to declare war there was legal doubt whether the armed forces of the country could be used abroad without its consent.

HYLAN THINKS SMITH MAY NOT ENTER THE RACE

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 6—(U.P.)—John F. Hylan, former mayor of New York, said here that Governor Al Smith of New York may not enter the coming presidential race despite "Smith for President" agitation.

Hylan said he believed Smith could make a stronger race four years hence.

"Many democratic leaders believe Smith would almost certainly be elected in 1932," Hylan said. "I believe Smith is now under considerable pressure to withdraw from this race."

FRENZIEDLY ENTHUSIASTIC CROWDS GREET HIM

AMERICAN MARINES, OFFICIALS, WONDERING NATIVES FROM INTERIOR

LANDS AT FIELD NAMED AFTER AMERICAN MARINE, BOURNE FIELD

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Feb. 6. —(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed at the United States marine flying field here at 1:51 A. M. today —his last immediate stopping place on his good will tour toward the Pan-American conference at Havana.

A frenziedly enthusiastic crowd, the most incongruous of his long flight, awaited the flier.

American marines in occupation here mingled with officials and wondering natives from the interior— some of them from districts where the dead voodoo magic is not only believed in, but practiced.

The landing was made at a field named after an American marine, Bourne Field.

It was estimated 100,000 people were at the field or along the route to the home of American High Commissioner Russell where Lindbergh was to be a guest until his departure Wednesday for Havana.

Haiti not only issued a special postage stamp bearing his portrait to commemorate his arrival but named for him — Avenue Charles Lindbergh—the street in the heart of the city along which the crowds were waiting to acclaim him.

One distinction awaiting Lindbergh was his decoration by President Borno with the Order of Merit, never before awarded a white man.

New York, Feb. 6.—The French Cable Company announced today receipt of a message that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, in his Spirit of St. Louis, had taken off from San Domingo at 11 A. M. on his 160 mile flight to Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, and had been seen passing over Santiago Dos Caballeros at 11:20.

LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY IN THE WEST IS IN GOOD CONDITION

BUT RAILWAYS, ACCORDING TO K. F. BURGESS, IN BAD SHAPE

I. C. C. HEARING ON PROPOSED LIVESTOCK FREIGHT REDUCTIONS

Chicago, Feb. 6—(UP)—The livestock industry in the west is in good condition and the railroads are in bad condition, Kenneth F. Burgess, general solicitor for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, contended today in opening arguments before an interstate commerce commission against proposed livestock freight rate reductions.

"Official government figures show that on Jan. 1, 1928, livestock on farms had increased in value $1,000,000,000 over its worth when the Hoch-Smith rail rate resolution was passed by congress," he said.

Western railroads, he added, suffered a $42,000,000 decline in net earnings in 1927.

The railroads will present evidence at the hearing designed to show that livestock rates are low in comparison with rates on other commodities, and should not be reduced further, Burgess said.

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 6.—Six persons were injured when a bus ran into a ditch near here. All will recover.

MOTHER AND TWO CHILDREN DEAD FROM GAS FUMES

Cleveland, Feb. 6—(U.P.)—A mother and two children were dead and three other members of a family were in a critical condition at a hospital here suffering from the effects of gas fumes. All were overcome by the gas yesterday morning.

The dead are Mrs. Anna Stanchik, 38, her daughter, Anna, 11, and Edward, 5.

Police blame a defective hot water heater in the basement of the home for the fumes.

KANSAS CITY PREPARES FOR GREAT CONVENTION

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE ASSURED OF 1,000 ADDITIONAL ROOMS

HOUSING COMMITTEE HAD PREVIOUSLY FAILED TO FUNCTION PROPERLY

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 6.—(UP) —An additional thousand rooms in Kansas City will be placed at the disposal of the republican national committee, according to Charles F. Curry, secretary of the Kansas City housing committee.

Reports have been spread in the east that the republican convention was to be taken from Kansas City because of the lack of hotel facilities.

The national committee demanded an additional 1,000 rooms when the Kansas City housing committee failed to send a list of the 4,000 rooms required by the national committee for allotment to those to be directly connected with the convention.

New York, Feb. 6. — Charles D. Hilles, republican national committeeman, said no threats had been made to remove the republican national convention from Kansas City.

"I believe the convention will remain in Kansas City," Hilles said. "We have made no threats to take the convention away from Kansas City nor do we intend to. We are confident that the representatives of Kansas City will make good. There has been no misrepresentation as to the capacity of the auditorium. It has seated 14,000 but for a deliberative body the number of seats naturally would be cut down to 10,000."

Boston, Feb. 6.—William H. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, expressed surprise at reports that Kansas City might be replaced as the convention city for the G. O. P. convention.

"The committee is going ahead with its plans for convening in Kansas City," Butler said. "I can't imagine what would have caused these rumors."

AGED INVALID'S HOME RANSACKED BY SNEAK THIEF

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 6.—(U.P.)—An aged invalid woman's home was ransacked by a sneak thief who took a $250 watch while she lay ill in a nearby room, a man was assaulted by two burglars whom he surprised in another robbery and six homes were entered and robbed over the week end, police reported today.

As Miss Marie Hyde, 70, an invalid, confined to her bed, looked on, a youth ransacked a room in her home, and fled with the watch.

LEVINE POSTPONES FLIGHT TO HAVANA

Roosevelt Field, L. I., Feb. 6. — (UP)—Charles A. Levine's proposed flight to Havana, scheduled to start at dawn today, was postponed until tomorrow.

Lt. Wilmer Stultz, who will pilot the Columbia, visited the flying field last night and after looking over the weather reports, decided a take-off today would be inadvisable.

COMMEMORATES 150 YEARS OF CONTINUED PEACE

FRENCH AMBASSADOR CLAUDEL, UNDERSECRETARY OLDS ATTACH SIGNATURES

EXCEPTED FROM ARBITRATION ARE DISPUTES INVOLVING MONROE DOCTRINE, ETC.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(UP) — A century and a half of uninterrupted peace between France and the United States was commemorated today when French Ambassador Claudel and Undersecretary of State Robert E. Olds signed a Franco-American treaty of arbitration at the state department.

President Coolidge sent the treaty to the senate today for ratification.

On February 6, 1778, Benjamin Franklin, Silas Deane and Arthur Lee on behalf of the 13 United States of America signed a treaty of amity and commerce with France. It was the first treaty entered into by the young republic of the new world.

From that moment, France openly assisted the 13 states in their war against Great Britain. Money, of which the new republic was in desperate need, flowed in a continuous stream from the treasury of Louis XVI to assist General George Washington and his men.

The treaty signed today advances the historical friendship to what is interpreted as a firmer footing in that it provides for arbitration in the event of a dispute between the two countries.

Excepted from arbitration are disputes involving the Monroe Doctrine, matters of domestic affairs, and disputes involving third parties. State department officials refused to comment on published reports that French obligations under the League of Nations also are exempted.

In the preamble of today's treaty, France and the United States deprecate resort to war. The long friendship between the two countries is cited as placing war between them beyond contemplation. The treaty is one of two recently the subject of negotiation between Washington and Paris. The other was the proposed anti-war treaty suggested by Foreign Minister Briand, accepted with amendments by Secretary of State Kellogg and subsequently found impractical because Briand and Kellogg could not agree on the scope of the instrument.

Briand foresaw a renunciation of war as between France and the United States. Kellogg suggested the treaty should be extended to include Great Britain, Italy, Germany and Japan. Briand countered, proposing that the renunciation should be limited to aggressive war. Kellogg was unwilling to accept this suggestion and there the discussion rests, with neither party willing to concede the other's point.

The treaty signed today replaces the arbitration party treaty negotiated by Elihu Root as secretary of state and reduces the score of exceptions from arbitration noted in that document. The new treaty will form a model to be extended by this country to other nations.

Today's ceremony was informal, with a battery of moving picture cameras overlooking the long table at which Claudel and Olds sat. In front of the two lay the original copy of the Franco-American treaty of 1778 and beside it was a treaty of alliance of the two countries concluded on the same day and representing number two in the archives of the state department. Olds and Claudel turned the faded pages of the historical document and amity and commerce, paying special attention to the seal of the French monarch and to the bold signatures of the French and American negotiators.

Claudel spoke briefly saying that it was with deep feeling of emotion that he signed a treaty today on the 150th anniversary of the first treaty of France an dthe United States. Olds replied that the fortunate conclusion of today's treaty was a matter of the deepest gratification for the government.

In his remarks following the signature of the treaty, Claudel referred to "the outlawry of war" presumably

Haiti not only issued a special postage stamp bearing his portrait to commemorate his arrival but named for him — Avenue Charles Lindbergh—the street in the heart of the city along which the crowds were waiting to acclaim him.

One distinction awaiting Lindbergh was his decoration by President Borno with the Order of Merit, never before awarded a white man.

New York, Feb. 6.—The French Cable Company announced today receipt of a message that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, in his Spirit of St. Louis, had taken off from San Domingo at 11 A. M. on his 160 mile flight to Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, and had been seen passing over Santiago Dos Caballeros at 11:20.

LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY IN THE WEST IS IN GOOD CONDITION

BUT RAILWAYS, ACCORDING TO K. F. BURGESS, IN BAD SHAPE

I. C. C. HEARING ON PROPOSED LIVESTOCK FREIGHT REDUCTIONS

Chicago, Feb. 6—(UP)—The livestock industry in the west is in good condition and the railroads are in bad condition, Kenneth F. Burgess, general solicitor for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, contended today in opening arguments before an interstate commerce commission against proposed livestock freight rate reductions.

"Official government figures show that on Jan. 1, 1928, livestock on farms had increased in value $1,000,000,000 over its worth when the Hoch-Smith rail rate resolution was passed by congress," he said.

Western railroads, he added, suffered a $42,000,000 decline in net earnings in 1927.

The railroads will present evidence at the hearing designed to show that livestock rates are low in comparison with rates on other commodities, and should not be reduced further, Burgess said.

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 6.—Six persons were injured when a bus ran into a ditch near here. All will recover.

MOTHER AND TWO CHILDREN DEAD FROM GAS FUMES

Cleveland, Feb. 6—(U.P.)—A mother and two children were dead and three other members of a family were in a critical condition at a hospital here suffering from the effects of gas fumes. All were overcome by the gas yesterday morning.

The dead are Mrs. Anna Stanchik, 38, her daughter, Anna, 11, and Edward, 5.

Police blame a defective hot water heater in the basement of the home for the fumes.

KANSAS CITY PREPARES FOR GREAT CONVENTION

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE ASSURED OF 1,000 ADDITIONAL ROOMS

HOUSING COMMITTEE HAD PREVIOUSLY FAILED TO FUNCTION PROPERLY

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 6.—(UP) —An additional thousand rooms in Kansas City will be placed at the disposal of the republican national committee, according to Charles F. Curry, secretary of the Kansas City housing committee.

Reports have been spread in the east that the republican convention was to be taken from Kansas City because of the lack of hotel facilities.

The national committee demanded an additional 1,000 rooms when the Kansas City housing committee failed to send a list of the 4,000 rooms required by the national committee for allotment to those to be directly connected with the convention.

New York, Feb. 6. — Charles D. Hilles, republican national committeeman, said no threats had been made to remove the republican national convention from Kansas City.

"I believe the convention will remain in Kansas City," Hilles said. "We have made no threats to take the convention away from Kansas City nor do we intend to. We are confident that the representatives of Kansas City will make good. There has been no misrepresentation as to the capacity of the auditorium. It has seated 14,000 but for a deliberative body the number of seats naturally would be cut down to 10,000."

Boston, Feb. 6.—William H. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, expressed surprise at reports that Kansas City might be replaced as the convention city for the G. O. P. convention.

"The committee is going ahead with its plans for convening in Kansas City," Butler said. "I can't imagine what would have caused these rumors."

AGED INVALID'S HOME RANSACKED BY SNEAK THIEF

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 6.—(U.P.)—An aged invalid woman's home was ransacked by a sneak thief who took a $250 watch while she lay ill in a nearby room, a man was assaulted by two burglars whom he surprised in another robbery and six homes were entered and robbed over the week end, police reported today.

As Miss Marie Hyde, 70, an invalid, confined to her bed, looked on, a youth ransacked a room in her home, and fled with the watch.

LEVINE POSTPONES FLIGHT TO HAVANA

Roosevelt Field, L. I., Feb. 6. — (UP)—Charles A. Levine's proposed flight to Havana, scheduled to start at dawn today, was postponed until tomorrow.

Lt. Wilmer Stultz, who will pilot the Columbia, visited the flying field last night and after looking over the weather reports, decided a take-off today would be inadvisable.

COMMEMORATES 150 YEARS OF CONTINUED PEACE

FRENCH AMBASSADOR CLAUDEL, UNDERSECRETARY OLDS ATTACH SIGNATURES

EXCEPTED FROM ARBITRATION ARE DISPUTES INVOLVING MONROE DOCTRINE, ETC.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(UP) — A century and a half of uninterrupted peace between France and the United States was commemorated today when French Ambassador Claudel and Undersecretary of State Robert E. Olds signed a Franco-American treaty of arbitration at the state department.

President Coolidge sent the treaty to the senate today for ratification.

On February 6, 1778, Benjamin Franklin, Silas Deane and Arthur Lee on behalf of the 13 United States of America signed a treaty of amity and commerce with France. It was the first treaty entered into by the young republic of the new world.

From that moment, France openly assisted the 13 states in their war against Great Britain. Money, of which the new republic was in desperate need, flowed in a continuous stream from the treasury of Louis XVI to assist General George Washington and his men.

The treaty signed today advances the historical friendship to what is interpreted as a firmer footing in that it provides for arbitration in the event of a dispute between the two countries.

Excepted from arbitration are disputes involving the Monroe Doctrine, matters of domestic affairs, and disputes involving third parties. State department officials refused to comment on published reports that French obligations under the League of Nations also are exempted.

In the preamble of today's treaty, France and the United States deprecate resort to war. The long friendship between the two countries is cited as placing war between them beyond contemplation. The treaty is one of two recently the subject of negotiation between Washington and Paris. The other was the proposed anti-war treaty suggested by Foreign Minister Briand, accepted with amendments by Secretary of State Kellogg and subsequently found impractical because Briand and Kellogg could not agree on the scope of the instrument.

Briand foresaw a renunciation of war as between France and the United States. Kellogg suggested the treaty should be extended to include Great Britain, Italy, Germany and Japan. Briand countered, proposing that the renunciation should be limited to aggressive war. Kellogg was unwilling to accept this suggestion and there the discussion rests, with neither party willing to concede the other's point.

The treaty signed today replaces the arbitration party treaty negotiated by Elihu Root as secretary of state and reduces the score of exceptions from arbitration noted in that document. The new treaty will form a model to be extended by this country to other nations.

Today's ceremony was informal, with a battery of moving picture cameras overlooking the long table at which Claudel and Olds sat. In front of the two lay the original copy of the Franco-American treaty of 1778 and beside it was a treaty of alliance of the two countries concluded on the same day and representing number two in the archives of the state department. Olds and Claudel turned the faded pages of the historical document and amity and commerce, paying special attention to the seal of the French monarch and to the bold signatures of the French and American negotiators.

Claudel spoke briefly saying that it was with deep feeling of emotion that he signed a treaty today on the 150th anniversary of the first treaty of France an dthe United States. Olds replied that the fortunate conclusion of today's treaty was a matter of the deepest gratification for the government.

In his remarks following the signature of the treaty, Claudel referred to "the outlawry of war" presumably

CONSTIPATION IS CURSE OF CITIES

90% of Modern City People are Sufferers, Says Science

Soft life and soft diet—they're at the root of the trouble. They cause irregular bowel movements — or movements that are regular, but not complete. Decayed material remains in the intestine to poison the entire system. The results are headaches, lassitude, backache, sleeplessness, bad dreams, nervousness, loss of appetite, lowered vitality and increased susceptibility to serious disease which may result in premature disability or death.

Don't trifle with intestinal poisoning. Cure it—but don't form the dangerous laxative habit! The natural way is best. Add bulk and roughage to your diet—it saved primitive man, and it will save you. Eat natural 100% bran — Pillsbury's Health Bran—it is the best source of the bulk which is so vital to your health.

Warning—be sure you get the right bran. When your doctor says, "Eat bran," he means a true, natural 100% bran — Pillsbury's Health Bran. Because it is uncooked, unsweetened and unadulterated, it really does the work—you get the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes. Use it to prepare delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, macaroons, doughnuts, apple cake, etc.,—recipes are on every package. Your grocer has it—eat it three times a day.

Soft life and soft diet—they're at the root of the trouble. They cause irregular bowel movements — or movements that are regular, but not complete. Decayed material remains in the intestine to poison the entire system. The results are headaches, lassitude, backache, sleeplessness, bad dreams, nervousness, loss of appetite, lowered vitality and increased susceptibility to serious disease which may result in premature disability or death.

Don't trifle with intestinal poisoning. Cure it—but don't form the dangerous laxative habit! The natural way is best. Add bulk and roughage to your diet—it saved primitive man, and it will save you. Eat natural 100% bran — Pillsbury's Health Bran—it is the best source of the bulk which is so vital to your health.

Warning—be sure you get the right bran. When your doctor says, "Eat bran," he means a true, natural 100% bran — Pillsbury's Health Bran. Because it is uncooked, unsweetened and unadulterated, it really does the work—you get the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes. Use it to prepare delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, macaroons, doughnuts, apple cake, etc.,—recipes are on every package. Your grocer has it—eat it three times a day.

BUY DOCK COAL

"Clam Shell" bucket at coal docks—which takes twelve tons in one bite

for your children's health

When the North wind howls through the eaves, forcing your children to play indoors, their health demands clean, cozy warmth.

Clean, cozy warmth is what Dock Coal provides with its very high carbon content and its small percentage of moisture and waste. Before it reaches you Dock Coal has been carefully sized to give you the greatest efficiency possible in heating—and carefully cleaned to protect your health.

For 50 years Dock Coal has been giving thousands of homes in the Northwest the most healthful kind of heat comfort and cleanliness. And it has been paying its users in reduced fuel bills as well.

You can start today with Dock Coal. Ask your dealer.

To assure the Northwest ample supply and protection, the Dock Coal Companies operate, at the Head of the Lakes, a $30,000,000 plant for handling and storing 10,000,000 tons of Eastern coal annually. This coal is distributed to the consumer by 5,000 Retail Coal Dealers.

6 GAMES TO BE PLAYED IN CONFERENCE BEFORE THE WEEK ENDS

TONIGHT MINNESOTA PLAYS AT IOWA, OHIO COMES TO CHICAGO

Chicago, Feb. 6—(UP)—Material changes in Big Ten basketball standings were in prospect this week.

Six games will be played in the conference before the week ends. Tonight Minnesota plays at Iowa and Ohio comes to Chicago. Wednesday Northwestern meets Illinois. The headliners come Saturday night when the leading Purdue team plays Michigan; Minnesota meets Wisconsin; and Iowa goes to Indiana.

Purdue, now leading the conference, faces tough opposition in the Wolverines who hope to mar the Boilermaker perfect record. Northwestern, with four games won and one lost, expects to find little trouble in winning from Illinois.

Results of the three games last Saturday night:

Michigan 28, Chicago 19; Ohio State 42, Minnesota 40; Indiana 48, Kentucky 29.

The standings:

Team	W.	L.
Purdue	3	0
Northwestern	4	1
Wisconsin	3	1
Indiana	3	2
Michigan	3	2
Ohio State	2	3
Chicago	2	4
Illinois	1	3
Iowa	1	3
Minnesota	1	4

Washington, Feb. 6. — (UP) — Battle fields six miles above the earth are forecast by the war department which today announced that pursuit planes recently ordered would be equipped for fighting 31,000 feet in the air.

The planes will have apparatus to feed oxygen to the pilot and superchargers to feed air to the motors. Airmen without such protection have been forbidden to rise more than 15,000 feet above the ground. Another order forbade flying lower than 75 feet over persons or obstructions.

PSYCHOLOGY IS GREAT STUFF, CHEER LEADER AVERS

"We want a basket. We want a basket," and so on until the Brainerd high not only sunk one but continued to sink 'em until the game was tied up.

Bill Johnstone, B. H. S. cheer leader, claims that psychology won the game for Brainerd Saturday night. Previous to the game in a special meeting of the school rooters, he told his assemblage that psychology was necessary to win any game. He stressed the point that if a person asked for a thing with sincerity and long enough the wish would be granted.

When the locals were behind Saturday night, Bill had a great chance to try out his psychology "stuff." With persistent demands for a basket from the rooting faction the team came through splendidly and fulfilled the prayers and hopes of all local fans.

Brainerd will have its chance to test psychology to its most severe degree as the team goes to the tournament and if victorious there at the regional and then to the state.

A traveller in Brainerd Friday stated that he was going to stay over Saturday here to see the state champions play. He had it fixed definitely in his mind that Brainerd will be the 1928 state champions.

CANZONERI IS TO DEPEND ON SPEED FOR VICTORY FRIDAY

New York, Feb. 6—(U.P.)—Tony Canzoneri of Brooklyn will depend upon speed to bring him victory over Benny Bass of Philadelphia in their 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden Friday night for the featherweight championship.

'I am going to devote the rest of of my training to developing speed," Canzoneri said. I have a lot of respect for Bass' punching power, but I don't think he'll be able to hit me solidly."

Bass is recognized as the 126-pound champion by the National Boxing Association, while Canzoneri is recognized as the leading featherweight by the New York State Athletic Association.

intending to emphasize the preamble of the document. It was recalled, however, that it had been stated at the state department that today's treaty could not be considered to have outlawed war since the treaty merely spoke of arbitration and the reference to war is contained only in the preamble. A preamble does not form a part of a treaty.

"The old treaty gave a start to a new nation," Claudel said, referring to the treaty of 1778. "The second treaty gives a start to a new idea. 'Outlawry-of-War' specifically is an American idea because it shows two marks of your country; it is great and it is practicable."

"'Outlawry-of-War' is one of those well-coined words which not only has striking meaning but a working power."

Chicago—Branch McCracken, Indiana, leads the Big Ten conference scorers with 23 field goals and 11 free throws for a total of 57 points. Walters of Northwestern is second with 16 field goals and 15 free throws for a total of 47 points.

Why We Do Not Quote Comparative Prices

About a year ago a prominent Arctic explorer brought his Eskimo guide back to New York. When Ikko returned to his native village he reported that they had lived in a huge igloo on the banks of the Hudson where they fished each day and caught enormous quantities of seals. To have told the whole truth would have shattered his reputation for veracity.

Often it is difficult for us, to refrain from talking too much about the amazing values our buying power makes possible, but even as Ikko, we value the good opinion of our neighbors. We prefer that our advertising underestimate the values we offer, rather than to tell the whole truth—when the truth has the outward semblance of a falsehood.

Why We Do Not Quote Comparative Prices

About a year ago a prominent Arctic explorer brought his Eskimo guide back to New York. When Ikko returned to his native village he reported that they had lived in a huge igloo on the banks of the Hudson where they fished each day and caught enormous quantities of seals. To have told the whole truth would have shattered his reputation for veracity.

Often it is difficult for us, to refrain from talking too much about the amazing values our buying power makes possible, but even as Ikko, we value the good opinion of our neighbors. We prefer that our advertising underestimate the values we offer, rather than to tell the whole truth—when the truth has the outward semblance of a falsehood.

NOW FOR SOME REAL RECORDS

AND now for some real records! We have had fellows sitting on top of a flag pole, we have had aviators turning 500 or more flip flops in the air, and doing other stunts.

Making a mark in something of value to humanity in general, now comes Harold Anderson of Tamarack and claims the record for continuous plowing. As recorded by the Associated Press, he remained at the throttle of his tractor for 110 hours without sleep, and left the machine only long enough to eat and fill the fuel tanks of the machine.

The youth left his home with the tractor and two bottom plows at 7 o'clock on a Monday morning and plowed continuously until 9 o'clock the following Friday night. Farmers in the neighborhood timed the operations.

In the 110 hours he plowed 60 acres with the tractor running at slightly under normal operating speed and covering a distance of about 240 miles. Young Anderson lost about eight pounds during the five days.

Now that these records are being attempted in practical things, we may expect to find the girls entering a dish washing contest, bread making or jelly making. These homely, practical things produce more definite results, but probably less publicity, than the flag pole sitting contest or similar foolish things like marathon Charleston dancing, endurance piano playing, or coast to coast running.

COLONEL ALBERT F. PRATT

PRINCETON mourns with Anoka and the remainder of the state the loss of Colonel Albert F. Pratt. Colonel Pratt was more to the people of Princeton than a state official, he was a neighbor and a friend, and the type of friend whose loyalty never wavers. He was a "square shooter" who was not afraid to stand by his guns. His friends always knew just where to find him, and when he was needed, he never was found wanting.

The service that Colonel Pratt gave in his state and country was characteristic of the man. Twice when the call of colors came Albert F. Pratt was in uniform and ready to serve on the firing line. When he was mustered out of the army at the end of the world war, he again stood ready to serve his state, and in his professional capacity as a lawyer.

For eight years Colonel Pratt served with distinction as assistant attorey general and received his last promotion to the office of attorney general just one month before he died.

Providence moves in a mysterious way, and it is difficult for the friends of Colonel Pratt to see why he should be taken at this time, just at his prime when he had entered into a position where he could render such excellent service. But his friends must remember that while the race was cut short, in his accomplishments Colonel Pratt had lived more than the life of the average man. He gave much to life but he received much from it, and the memory that his friends cherish will live for years.—Princeton Union.

AMERICAN LEGION MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

WITH 30,000 members as the goal, the American Legion, Minnesota department, will conduct a membership drive throughout the state, February 11 to 25. Active membership in the state organization is placed at 16,341 with 458 posts by L. E. Zumwinkle, Fergus Falls department commander.

Committees have been appointed to take over the various details of the drive. The spring conference of post commanders, adjutants and district commanders will be held at St. Paul April 13 and 14, it was announced at a recent meeting attended by 600 state officers and legionnaires. All members were urged to get behind the drive and "put it over".

Minnesota is well represented on the national committees of the Legion. They are Judge Royal Stone of the state supreme court and Senator Sherman Child, Minneapolis, national child welfare committee; J. M. Henry, Winona, national vice commander, chairman of the trophies awards committee; Mike Hurley, Pine City, Americanization committee; Ray Rossberg, Crookston, legislative committee and Rufus Rand, national committee man, chairman of the aeronautics committee.

VISITING AROUND

MASS visits of lodges, Chambers of Commerce, or other organizations are of value to the members engaged. These, in line with trade visits, acquaint people of various communities as to what others are doing.

It brings inspiration to the lodge brothers to see a ritual properly exemplified. Business is stimulated by the trade visit of a Chamber of Commerce. Friendship is solidified and a splendid feeling of comradeship built up when the Chamber of Commerce or other organization of town pays courtesies to the farmers.

Some of the service clubs in the past had delegations attend the farmers meetings and this practice should not be discontinued. Rubbing elbows with our neighbors, meeting them as real friends, does much to bring about a better era of good feeling. And the farmer thinks much more of a friendly visit than one in which a speaker tries to unload a lot of advice and tell him how to run his business.

IOWA, which a few years ago was away behind Minnesota in the matter of good roads, says the Worthington Globe, has forged ahead and is rapidly increasing its lead. Minnesota cannot afford to take a back seat. Hard-surfaced roads are the cheapest in the long run, as Iowa has found out.

A NARROW five-inch strip of bone taken from the shin and grafted to the spine has enabled Richard Deveraux, age 22, of Felt Mills, N. Y. who suffered a broken back, to walk again.

GERMAN manufacturers of playing cards report a large increase in business.

A FILLING station for cigar lighters has been opened in Minneapolis. New wicks, flints, etc., and servicing of the lighters can be secured.

Dolores Costello in "OLD SAN FRANCISCO" is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Don Hernandez Vasquez and his beautiful granddaughter Dolores occupy the old Vasquez ranch handed down from the first Vasquez on a grant from the King of Spain. The prosperity that came to San Francisco by the discovery of gold in California missed the Vasquez hacienda where indolent ways did not keep abreast of modern progress. But the Vasquez acres are coveted by Buckwell, political boss of San Francisco. His lawyer, Brandon, with Brandon's nephew, Terry, are sent to the ranch to buy it. Brandon fails to accomplish his task, but Terry falls in love with Dolores.

As he sat in his living room, his hand resting on the table, he was the personification of power—at its worst. He idly drummed with his fingers as he gazed out of the window. Obviously he was waiting for someone. A gentle tapping on the paneled wall brought him cautiously to his feet. Tip-toeing across the room, he pressed a hidden button in the wainscoting. A portion of the wall slid back noiselessly and a girl wrapped in a huge silken shawl stepped into the room.

With a word of caution Buckwell went to the door and locked it. As the girl removed the shawl she stood revealed in all the lovely silken allurement of the East. Evidently a half-caste with all the seductiveness and charm that only the orient can produce, her complexion was as softly pink as a peach bloom, her big, questioning eyes revealed nothing but mystery in their hidden depths.

"You're a wise Chink, Lu Fong," said Buckwell.

Buckwell turned briskly from the door and said: "What is it you want? Speak quickly! There's a delegation from Chinatown due here any minute."

"That is it. I came to warn you. All Chinatown is in a furor. They all say that this time you have gone too far. Lu Fong, their leader, has spoken the word. They will kill you if you don't ease up on your demands." Her voice came soft and low like the whispering of a spring wind through the willows.

For a moment Buckwell was startled out of his usual calm. His face paled and his eyes took on a squinty slant that gave him a queer oriental look, entirely foreign to his usual appearance. It was gone in a second and he was again the strong, masterful leader—the demi-god of the underworld.

"All right, San Toy. I'll be careful. Thanks for the warning. I won't forget it." He seemed entirely oblivious to the alluring charm of his visitor. Perhaps it was because something more momentous was pending, or it may have been that the charm had long since lost its ability to please.

San Toy was disappointed. She clearly showed by her manner that she expected something more, but Buckwell was obdurant and taking her gently but firmly by the arm guided her to the partition and out through the sliding panel from which she had entered. San Toy disappeared down a dark stairway as mysteriously as she came and the panel clicked behind her.

Buckwell unlocked the door and returned to the table with an ominous frown on his face. And he was just in time. Hardly had he been seated when a servant announced that the delegation was waiting to see him. With a wave of the hand he indicated that they were to be brought before him.

Six Chinamen entered, followed by several ward bosses. Buckwell nodded and waved them to the vacant chairs around the table. The bosses sat down entirely at ease and as one man proceeded to light cigars. Tilting back their chairs they waited for whatever was to happen.

The Chinamen either did not see Buckwell's invitation to be seated or else chose deliberately to ignore it. They came forward to the table, bowed deeply and arranging themselves before it stood motionless with right hands slipped into the sleeve of the other arm. Lu Fong, their leader and spokesman, was slightly in advance of the others.

Buckwell eyed them silently and with a countenance as imperturable as their own. Suddenly reaching across the table he seized a strong paper cutter in his right hand and closing his fist on it snapped the steel in two and tossed the pieces into the fireplace.

The bosses stirred uneasily, but Lu Fong and his friends did not seem to notice. If the exhibition was an object lesson to them it failed of its purpose. Buckwell sensed this immediately, for throwing all pretense aside, he pointed his finger menacingly and said: "Lu Fong, this is the showdown. We warned you before to confine your business strictly to Chinatown. You haven't done it and now you'll sell your holdings at the figure I offered or we'll close you up tighter than a drum. And remember this—from now on no Chink can own property outside of the Chinese district." He sank back in his chair to note the effect of his latest and most severe edict.

The situation was tense. No one said a word, but every eye in the room was on the inscrutable features of Lu Fong. The tong leaders watched him anxiously, as if trying to discover what it was all about, though willing to abide by whatever he said.

Lu Fong gazed at Buckwell silently. He was evidently weighing the situation carefully, fully recognizing the strength of those pitted against him. Then, as if there was nothing else to be done, he shrugged his shoulders slightly and smiled faintly. With true oriental grace he bowed low in acceptance of the inevitable and said: "Even though the Gods place the greater power in the hands of thy adversary, one must still bow to the will of the Gods."

"You're a wise Chink, Lu Fong," said Buckwell with a smile of satisfaction. "You know when you're licked. I'll meet you at the Foodle Dog tomorrow night at nine o'clock and we'll close the deal."

The conference was over. Once again Buckwell and his henchmen had triumphed.

Lu Fong nodded in agreement to the meeting and with his tong men at his heels shuffled from the room.

The bosses waited until they had disappeared and then gathered around Buckwell, slapping him on the back with many jests of congratulation. Soon they departed with gruff chuckles and a wave of their hands. They, too, were satisfied. There would soon be more easy money for their tills.

Buckwell was alone only for a moment when the servant again appeared and announced Brandon and his nephew, Terence O'Shaughnessay.

Brandon came forward with a frown on his face. His dismissal from the Vasquez rancho still rankled.

Buckwell greeted him with a smile, still thinking of his recent victory over the tong leaders.

Well, Brandon, what success?"

Brandon replied a bit hesitatingly: "I saw Vasquez, Chris, but the old fool refused to sell at any price."

Terry came up to the table as he heard his uncle mention the name of Vasquez. His interest quickened as he realized the real purport of their visit to the old hacienda.

Buckwell's smile changed into a scowl as he stared at Brandon. He seldom failed in getting what he wanted and could not stand failure in anyone who worked for him. Brandon shifted uncomfortably as Buckwell said: "I want that land and I intend to get it. I would have paid Vasquez the price I told you, but now I'll spend the money to prove that his grants are invalid."

Terry heard this with a worried expression. Dolores had become deeply entrenched in his heart and he was anxious about her.

Buckwell continued: "Send him word that I have investigated his grants and found them valueless—and that he must prepare to vacate."

This was going a bit too far for Terry to remain apart from the conversation any longer, and he stepped up to Buckwell, saying: "But that hardly seems fair. The Vasquez family have lived on that old estate for generations."

Buckwell looked at Terry quickly, as if noticing him for the first time. Brandon saw that Buckwell was offended and anxious to keep in his good graces, intervened meaningly: "Terry is influenced by the fact that old Vasquez has a beautiful granddaughter."

He leered knowingly, and Buckwell, catching the intent, nodded wisely and chuckled.

Earning Money Out of Waste

Samuel Crowther in the Country Gentleman says, "A corporation has no mystic powers. The greatest corporate economies are in the direction of earning money out of what is now waste".

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) agrees with Mr. Crowther's deduction. This Company believes that by utilizing material which otherwise would be waste and converting it into usable products, it is performing a service of signal value to society.

One of the greatest corporate economies of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been its ability to earn money out of waste. Through the years this Company has been striving to get out of the natural resource, petroleum, all of its potential usefulness to man.

In addition to gasoline and oil, hundreds of by-products have been developed to meet hundreds of various needs.

This has meant keeping closely in touch with the changing needs of man—anticipating new requirements—keeping a finger on the pulse of progress.

It has meant constant, never-ending scientific work.

Did you ever stop to think where the oil for a sewing machine comes from? How asphalt is made? What's in the polish you use to brighten the finish of your car?

These products were not found in the earth as they are. They did not happen! Whose ideas were they? You will never know!

Patient men of science worked them out in the quiet of unknown laboratories, experimenting, making thousands and thousands of tests. The petroleum products that you use today are the achievements of years of effort. The reason they give such satisfaction is because they were slowly, gradually, carefully perfected to give the results desired.

The development of by-products from petroleum has helped to keep the cost of production of major products at a minimum—and has earned money out of waste.

Adequate capital, adequately equipped scientific laboratories—the time and effort of a staff of men scientifically trained and endowed with special abilities—have made it possible for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to earn money out of waste—and to pass on the benefits to all the people of the Middle West.

There is nothing mystic about the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) or its powers. It is simply a group of hard working people earning money, earning respect, earning friendship by "delivering the goods". Its powers are the powers of earnest effort and sincere purpose.

San Toy was disappointed. She clearly showed by her manner that she expected something more, but Buckwell was obdurant and taking her gently but firmly by the arm guided her to the partition and out through the sliding panel from which she had entered. San Toy disappeared down a dark stairway as mysteriously as she came and the panel clicked behind her.

Buckwell unlocked the door and returned to the table with an ominous frown on his face. And he was just in time. Hardly had he been seated when a servant announced that the delegation was waiting to see him. With a wave of the hand he indicated that they were to be brought before him.

Six Chinamen entered, followed by several ward bosses. Buckwell nodded and waved them to the vacant chairs around the table. The bosses sat down entirely at ease and as one man proceeded to light cigars. Tilting back their chairs they waited for whatever was to happen.

The Chinamen either did not see Buckwell's invitation to be seated or else chose deliberately to ignore it. They came forward to the table, bowed deeply and arranging themselves before it stood motionless with right hands slipped into the sleeve of the other arm. Lu Fong, their leader and spokesman, was slightly in advance of the others.

Buckwell eyed them silently and with a countenance as imperturable as their own. Suddenly reaching across the table he seized a strong paper cutter in his right hand and closing his fist on it snapped the steel in two and tossed the pieces into the fireplace.

The bosses stirred uneasily, but Lu Fong and his friends did not seem to notice. If the exhibition was an object lesson to them it failed of its purpose. Buckwell sensed this immediately, for throwing all pretense aside, he pointed his finger menacingly and said: "Lu Fong, this is the showdown. We warned you before to confine your business strictly to Chinatown. You haven't done it and now you'll sell your holdings at the figure I offered or we'll close you up tighter than a drum. And remember this—from now on no Chink can own property outside of the Chinese district." He sank back in his chair to note the effect of his latest and most severe edict.

The situation was tense. No one said a word, but every eye in the room was on the inscrutable features of Lu Fong. The tong leaders watched him anxiously, as if trying to discover what it was all about, though willing to abide by whatever he said.

Lu Fong gazed at Buckwell silently. He was evidently weighing the situation carefully, fully recognizing the strength of those pitted against him. Then, as if there was nothing else to be done, he shrugged his shoulders slightly and smiled faintly. With true oriental grace he bowed low in acceptance of the inevitable and said: "Even though the Gods place the greater power in the hands of thy adversary, one must still bow to the will of the Gods."

"You're a wise Chink, Lu Fong," said Buckwell with a smile of satisfaction. "You know when you're licked. I'll meet you at the Poodle Dog tomorrow night at nine o'clock and we'll close the deal."

The conference was over. Once again Buckwell and his henchmen had triumphed.

Lu Fong nodded in agreement to the meeting and with his tong men at his heels shuffled from the room.

The bosses waited until they had disappeared and then gathered around Buckwell, slapping him on the back with many jests of congratulation. Soon they departed with gruff chuckles and a wave of their hands. They, too, were satisfied. There would soon be more easy money for their tills.

Buckwell was alone only for a moment when the servant again appeared and announced Brandon and his nephew, Terence O'Shaughnessy.

Brandon came forward with a frown on his face. His dismissal from the Vasquez rancho still rankled.

Buckwell greeted him with a smile, still thinking of his recent victory over the tong leaders.

Well, Brandon, what success?"

Brandon replied a bit hesitatingly: "I saw Vasquez, Chris, but the old fool refused to sell at any price."

Terry came up to the table as he heard his uncle mention the name of Vasquez. His interest quickened as he realized the real purport of their visit to the old hacienda.

Buckwell's smile changed into a scowl as he stared at Brandon. He seldom failed in getting what he wanted and could not stand failure in anyone who worked for him. Brandon shifted uncomfortably as Buckwell said: "I want that land and I intend to get it. I would have paid Vasquez the price I told you, but now I'll spend the money to prove that his grants are invalid."

Terry heard this with a worried expression. Dolores had become deeply entrenched in his heart and he was anxious about her.

Buckwell continued: "Send him word that I have investigated his grants and found them valueless—and that he must prepare to vacate."

This was going a bit too far for Terry to remain apart from the conversation any longer, and he stepped up to Buckwell, saying: "But that hardly seems fair. The Vasquez family have lived on that old estate for generations."

Buckwell looked at Terry quickly, as if noticing him for the first time. Brandon saw that Buckwell was offended and anxious to keep in his good graces, intervened meaningly: "Terry is influenced by the fact that old Vasquez has a beautiful granddaughter."

He leered knowingly, and Buckwell, catching the intent, nodded wisely and chuckled.

1 FIREMAN IS KILLED IN HARBOR FIRE AT NEW YORK

New York, Feb. 6—(U.P.)—One fireman was killed and 12 others injured in a harbor fire today which temporarily paralyzed ferry service and threatened docks and freight yards.

John Dwyer, fireman, slipped on the ice-covered roof of a coal pocket and fell eighty feet. He died in a hospital.

Starting in the city, Ferry Coal Supply station on Staten Island just as thousands of commuters were coming to work on harbor ferries, the flames brought fire boats hurrying through the harbor and, fanned by winds, endangered the Baltimore & Ohio docks for more than an hour before they could be controlled.

BRIGHT, gleaming silverware—one time. Not bright and gleaming now. It was washed in hard water. But the soap combined with the hard water to form a scummy ring around the basin. That water wouldn't cut the grease on the silverware!

Soft water would, though. And the hardest water can be made soft by adding Melo. Just a pinch or so—then watch the suds come! Grease can't resist that! Gleaming silverware? Yes, indeed! But use soft water. Try Melo.

The Greatest of all Mystery Plays!

Under the cloak of the darkness of night, stealthily the unknown spectral menace glided among the shifting shadows of the haunted mansion. Unseen terror lurks in every foot of this masterly film—you'll see it, feel it, and you'll never forget it! Something new in thrills! With Laura LaPlante, Creighton Hale, Gertrude Astor, Tully Marshall and others.

Earning Money Out of Waste

Samuel Crowther in the Country Gentleman says, "A corporation has no mystic powers. The greatest corporate economies are in the direction of earning money out of what is now waste".

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) agrees with Mr. Crowther's deduction. This Company believes that by utilizing material which otherwise would be waste and converting it into usable products, it is performing a service of signal value to society.

One of the greatest corporate economies of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been its ability to earn money out of waste. Through the years this Company has been striving to get out of the natural resource, petroleum, all of its potential usefulness to man.

In addition to gasoline and oil, hundreds of by-products have been developed to meet hundreds of various needs.

This has meant keeping closely in touch with the changing needs of man—anticipating new requirements—keeping a finger on the pulse of progress.

It has meant constant, never-ending scientific work.

Did you ever stop to think where the oil for a sewing machine comes from? How asphalt is made? What's in the polish you use to brighten the finish of your car?

These products were not found in the earth as they are. They did not happen! Whose ideas were they? You will never know!

Patient men of science worked them out in the quiet of unknown laboratories, experimenting, making thousands and thousands of tests. The petroleum products that you use today are the achievements of years of effort. The reason they give such satisfaction is because they were slowly, gradually, carefully perfected to give the results desired.

The development of by-products from petroleum has helped to keep the cost of production of major products at a minimum—and has earned money out of waste.

Adequate capital, adequately equipped scientific laboratories—the time and effort of a staff of men scientifically trained and endowed with special abilities—have made it possible for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to earn money out of waste—and to pass on the benefits to all the people of the Middle West.

There is nothing mystic about the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) or its powers. It is simply a group of hard working people earning money, earning respect, earning friendship by "delivering the goods". Its powers are the powers of earnest effort and sincere purpose.

OFFFER CITY SCHOOLS TOXIN-ANTI TOXIN

Local Doctors Will Administer it to City Children Within Three Weeks

PREVENTION OF DIPHTHERIA

To be Furnished Free by State Board of Health; Must Have Parents Consent

Within the next three weeks the school children of Brainerd will be offered toxin-anti toxin which is a preventative of diphtheria, Miss Eula Michael, city health nurse, announced this morning. This year the toxin-anti toxin will be furnished free by the Minnesota State Board of Health and the local doctors will administer it at the schools.

The toxin-anti toxin will be given once a week for three weeks. Many people are confusing the toxin-anti toxin with anti toxin. Anti toxin is given when a person has developed diphtheria or has come in direct contact with the disease. This is given in large doses and frequently makes the person sick and does not make them immune to diphtheria for much more than a month. Toxin-anti toxin is given only to prevent the child from contracting the disease should he be exposed. The dose is small and does not make the child sick. It is not effective until about three months after the last dose and lasts from seven years to life, Miss Michael reports.

"The State Board of Health has found that about 90 percent of the children who have taken the toxin-anti toxin will not contract the disease should they be exposed. The state hospitals are giving toxin-anti toxin as a matter of routine. Every child that enters is immunized," continued Miss Michael." In New Haven Connecticut in 1921 there were 482 cases of diphtheria and 22 deaths. In 1922, 784 cases and 9 deaths. After giving toxin-anti toxin to the school children in 1925 there were 27 cases and 3 deaths. In 1926 there were 14 cases and 1 death.

"Dr. George McCoy of the United States Public Health Service says: Diphtheria toxin-anti toxin mixture has in the last few years come into such general use in the prevention of diphtheria as to occupy a place of importance in the preventive immunization against disease probably second only to small pox vaccine. Every year thousands of children are immunized, and the effect of this excellent prophylactic measure is being reflected in the lowered diphtheria death rate which is evident in localities where work has been done along this line. This result in the control of a dreaded disease of early childhood is all the more gratifying in that immunization is accomplished with practically no local or general reactions in the inoculated children."

All children must receive their parents written consent before doctors will administer the toxin-anti toxin.

YOUTH CONFESSES TO ROBBERY CHARGE

Archie Topham, 16, Taken From Freight by Police Squad This Morning

RETURNED TO STAPLES

Said he Robbed Poolroom for Revenge on Owner and Need of Funds

A very scared youth was on his way back to Staples at noon today from Brainerd to face charges of burglary of the Olympia Pool Hall of Staples at 2 a. m. today.

Archie Topham, 16 years old, former call boy for the Northern Pacific railway was taken from the caboose of the 8 a. m. freight into Brainerd by police officials. On questioning the youth confessed to the burglary stating that he entered the building by crawling through the transom. Twelve dollars in cash and $7.15 in checks were found wrapped in a handkerchief on the boy's person.

The boy stated that after robbing the cash register of the poolroom he walked to Motley where he purchased a ticket to Brainerd.

Need of funds and a desire for revenge upon the proprietor George Mallas was the reason young Topham gave for robbing the poolroom. He stated that his father was dead and that he didn't like the Greek who owned the poolroom.

According to police here, Topham was arrested at Staples four years ago when he was only 12 years old, for breaking into Miller's garage and robbing the safe of $12. The police reported that the boy was sentenced to 14 months at Red Wing at that time.

Topham said he had kept straight since the robbery of the Miller garage, according to the police.

Uncertain as to the number of burglars a heavy police guard was on hand this morning as the freight rain entered the yards of Brainerd. Chief of Police Thomas J. Templeton, Deputy Sheriff Sam Blomstrom and Special N. P. Officer Carl Jacobson entered the caboose and brought the lad out while Policemen Charles Varner, Erick Graff and A. Swanson kept watch in the yards.

Staples authorities on their arrival here this morning accused the youth with stealing $80 in cash from a cigar box in the cash register. The youth denied that there was any other person implicated in the robbery. He said he did not take more than $12 in cash from the register.

YOUTH CONFESSES TO ROBBERY CHARGE

Archie Topham, 16, Taken From Freight by Police Squad This Morning

RETURNED TO STAPLES

Said he Robbed Poolroom for Revenge on Owner and Need of Funds

A very scared youth was on his way back to Staples at noon today from Brainerd to face charges of burglary of the Olympia Pool Hall of Staples at 2 a. m. today.

Archie Topham, 16 years old, former call boy for the Northern Pacific railway was taken from the caboose of the 8 a. m. freight into Brainerd by police officials. On questioning the youth confessed to the burglary stating that he entered the building by crawling through the transom. Twelve dollars in cash and $7.15 in checks were found wrapped in a handkerchief on the boy's person.

The boy stated that after robbing the cash register of the poolroom he walked to Motley where he purchased a ticket to Brainerd.

Need of funds and a desire for revenge upon the proprietor George Mallas was the reason young Topham gave for robbing the poolroom. He stated that his father was dead and that he didn't like the Greek who owned the poolroom.

According to police here, Topham was arrested at Staples four years ago when he was only 12 years old, for breaking into Miller's garage and robbing the safe of $12. The police reported that the boy was sentenced to 14 months at Red Wing at that time.

Topham said he had kept straight since the robbery of the Miller garage, according to the police.

Uncertain as to the number of burglars a heavy police guard was on hand this morning as the freight rain entered the yards of Brainerd. Chief of Police Thomas J. Templeton, Deputy Sheriff Sam Blomstrom and Special N. P. Officer Carl Jacobson entered the caboose and brought the lad out while Policemen Charles Varner, Erick Graff and A. Swanson kept watch in the yards.

Staples authorities on their arrival here this morning accused the youth with stealing $80 in cash from a cigar box in the cash register. The youth denied that there was any other person implicated in the robbery. He said he did not take more than $12 in cash from the register.

BRAINERD WINS 6th CONFERENCE GAME

COMES FROM BEHIND IN SECOND HALF TO DOWN WADENA 21-17

VISITORS PRESENT A STRONG THREAT, COME NEAR DISHING OUT FIRST DEFEAT

ST. CLOUD TECH-HIGH HERE ON SATURDAY; AITKIN GAME FEBRUARY 17

The Brainerd high school cagers snatched victory out of almost certain defeat Saturday night to add their sixth conference win to their enviable record in the district. It was a nerve wracking game to the loyal Brainerd fans up to the third quarter when a complete reversal of form brought the locals out of the depths of defeat to certain victory by the count of 21 to 17.

Wadena presented the greatest threat the locals have been faced with this year. Their sudden offensive in the second quarter had the locals dizzy, with the result that at the half the Wadena boys lead by the count of 12 to 7. It looked like the Brainerd high was to take its first conference defeat of the season. The team trooped off the floor somewhat dejectedly. What Coach Kasch told the boys during the half will go down unrecorded but those words had a magical effect on the boys. Shaken from their lethargy, the Brainerd team entered the third quarter with somewhat the championship style it displayed in previous games. Passes which had been intercepted by the Wadena men in the first half, started working better and the quarter ended with Brainerd trailing by one point. The locals forced their way ahead to victory in the fourth quarter by scoring six points to the visitors' one. It was a joyous moment for the Brainerd team and Brainerd fans.

Plays Straight Ball

Brainerd played straight basketball in the first half. The score at the half forced Coach Kasch to instruct the boys to open up with two systematic plays which were to be saved for later games.

Wise started the scoring in the second half by sinking the cowhide from near center while pivoting in the air. It was the necessary incentive for the team to carry through to a victorious finish. Wise lead his team mates in scoring with nine points in his favor.

The next game will be played here Saturday night when the locals meet the St. Cloud Tech-High whom they defeated by the score of 29 to 8 recently at St. Cloud. Their last conference game will be played at Aitkin on February 17. An exhibition game will be played at Crosby-Ironton on February 24.

The tournament will be played at the Aitkin Armory on March 1, 2 and 3. Three teams are at present doped real threats to the tournament championship, Brainerd, Wadena and Crosby-Ironton.

LARS HAUGEN RETAINS NATIONAL SKI JUMP TITLE

TOTALS 18,388 POINTS IN CLASS A AT RED WING MEET

MADE LEAPS OF 143 AND 151 IN THE CONTEST

Red Wing, Minn., Feb. 6.—(UP)—The national ski jumping championship was retained by Lars Haugen of St. Paul in the annual tournament here Sunday.

Haugen totalled 18,8888 points in Class A jumping with leaps of 143 and 151 feet.

Other results in Class A were:

Peder Falstad, Canton, S. D., second, 18,288 points; Halvor Walstad, Racine, Wis., 18,179; Tom Clark, Duluth, Minn., 17,842; Lewis Dolphes, Denver, Colo., 17,300; Lemoine Batson Superior, Wis., 16,625; Oliver Kaldahl, Canton, S. D., 16,344; Olaf Skogen, Norge Club, Chicago, 16,304; Alf Bakken, Norge Club, Chicago, 16,238.

Steve Trogstad won first place in the Class B competition with 18,392 points. Other results in this class were: Clarence Berling, Ironwood, Michigan, 17,642; Iver Engebretsen, Wstby, Wis., 17,371; G. Iverson, St. Paul, 17,079; Erling Grindin, Duluth, Minn., 17,054; Roy Mikkelson, Norge Club, Chicago, 17,017; William Anderson, Minneapolis, 16,996; Walter Wick, Ironwood, Mich., 16,854; Harold Olsen, Red Wing, Minn., 16,721; Torall Lund, Rockford, Ill., 16,559.

Out of the tournament this year, a new organization of skiers, the Ski Association of America, was formed. This action was taken by about 50 skiers after the National Ski Association refused to expedite action on the request for a professional class to compete for cash prizes instead of cups and merchandise prizes.

The new organziation will stage professional tournaments.

Officers of the Ski Association of America are Fred Bruun, Norge Club, Chicago, president; Carl Hall, Detroit, vice president; A. H. Loula, Forest Reserve Club, Chicago; secretary; T. Narup, Ogden Dunes Club, Chicago, treasurer.

GENE TUNNEY TO CONFER ABOUT INCOME TAX

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 6—(U.P.)—Gene Tunney, heavyweight boxing champion, and his manager, Billy Gibson, left early today for New York where the champion will confer with revenue officials in regard to his income tax return, filed a short time ago.

Lou Fink, Tunney's trainer, was left behind with the training camp where Tunney recently started light workouts.

TRIS SPEAKER JOINS MACK'S ATHLETICS

WILL TAKE STAND IN CENTER GARDEN OF THE TEAM

VETERAN OUTFIELDER COMES TO TERMS WITH MACK MEN LEADER

TO REPORT TO TRAINING CAMP AT FORT MYERS, FLA., MARCH 1

New York, Feb. 6.—(UP)—Tris Speaker today looked forward to his twentieth season in the American League as the center fielder of the Philadelphia Athletics.

The veteran outfielder came to terms with Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, over the telephone last night, and will report to the A's training camp at Fort Myers, Fla., on March 1.

"I arrived here from the south yesterday and talked to Connie over the long distance telephone at Mount Pleasant, Fla., and decided to accept his offer," Speaker said. "We are both satisfied with the terms."

Speaker probably took a cut off the salary he received at Washington last year in order to continue in major league baseball. He was said to have received $30,000 for last season's work with the Senators and an additional $30,000 for signing a contract.

Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, released Speaker because he did not care to assume the heavy salary of the veteran outfielder for another year.

"There were no hard feelings between myself and Bucky Harris," Speaker said. "My stay with the Senators was most pleasant."

Mack plans to use Speaker in center field, Al Simmons in left and Bing Miller, obtained from the St. Louis Browns in right, with Walter French as first substitute. This line-up gives the Athletics a strong outfield on both offensive and defense.

Speaker played in 142 games with the Senators last season and batted .327.

For almost twenty years, Speaker has ranked with Ty Cobb and Walter Johnson as one of the foremost stars of the American League. He broke in with the Red Sox in 1908, playing there for eight seasons.

In 1926 he was sold to Cleveland for $55,000 and in 1919 succeeded Lee Fohl as manager of the Indians. The next season, 1920, he piloted the Indians to their first world's championship. He remained with Cleveland until after the 1926 season when he was given his outright release.

SEKYRA TO MEET GEMAS TONIGHT

FORMER IS PROMINENT CONTENDER FOR LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

New York, Feb. 6.—(UP)—Joe Sekyra of Dayton, O., prominent contender for the light heavyweight title, will meet George Gemas of Philadelphia in a scheduled 10-round bout at the St. Nicholas arena tonight.

If Sekyra wins, he probably will be matched with Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen, Wash., Assassin, and the victor paired with Tommy Loughran, 175-pound champion, in a title bout in March.

LOCALS GAIN CONFIDENCE AFTER THEIR DECISIVE VICTORY OVER FRAZEE

MGR. PETERSON ANNOUNCES POSSIBILITY OF GAME WITH JOESTING'S FIVE

Recovering from the sting of the disastrous road tour by their overwhelming victory over the Frazee five, the Brainerd American Legion cagers were confident today as they prepared for the Wednesday evening game at the Brainerd high school gymnasium with the Wright five.

Wright's threat will be met by Brainerd's strong offensive. The visitors have played the season with few losses and many victories over championship district teams. Manager Lester Peterson announced that his team is in fine shape and will put up the battle of their lives to come through with a victory.

The preliminary battle will be staged between the Comets and Foster's Speed Demons. The management is making arrangements with the Legion Auxiliary orchestra to play.

"We hope for a large attendance Wednesday evening," said Manager Lester Peterson today. "If Brainerd will support us, we will arrange a game with the 151st Field Artillery basketball team of Minneapolis which is benig led by Herb Joesting. It is possible we can get the team here for February 29 if plans go through."

The Legion team will play the Cold Springs five on February 15 for top place in the Central Minnesota Basketball League. The Cold Springs team defeated St. Cloud last week.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Steve Trogstad won first place in the Class B competition with 18,392 points. Other results in this class were: Clarence Berling, Ironwood, Michigan, 17,642; Iver Engebretsen, Wstby, Wis., 17,371; G. Iverson, St. Paul, 17,079; Erling Grindin, Duluth, Minn., 17,054; Roy Mikkelson, Norge Club, Chicago, 17,017; William Anderson, Minneapolis, 16,996; Walter Wick, Ironwood, Mich., 16,854; Harold Olsen, Red Wing, Minn., 16,721; Torall Lund, Rockford, Ill., 16,559.

Out of the tournament this year, a new organization of skiers, the Ski Association of America, was formed. This action was taken by about 50 skiers after the National Ski Association refused to expedite action on the request for a professional class to compete for cash prizes instead of cups and merchandise prizes.

The new organziation will stage professional tournaments.

Officers of the Ski Association of America are Fred Bruun, Norge Club, Chicago, president; Carl Hall, Detroit, vice president; A. H. Loula, Forest Reserve Club, Chicago; secretary; T. Narup, Ogden Dunes Club, Chicago, treasurer.

GENE TUNNEY TO CONFER ABOUT INCOME TAX

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 6—(U.P.)—Gene Tunney, heavyweight boxing champion, and his manager, Billy Gibson, left early today for New York where the champion will confer with revenue officials in regard to his income tax return, filed a short time ago.

Lou Fink, Tunney's trainer, was left behind with the training camp where Tunney recently started light workouts.

TRIS SPEAKER JOINS MACK'S ATHLETICS

WILL TAKE STAND IN CENTER GARDEN OF THE TEAM

VETERAN OUTFIELDER COMES TO TERMS WITH MACK MEN LEADER

TO REPORT TO TRAINING CAMP AT FORT MYERS, FLA., MARCH 1

New York, Feb. 6.—(UP)—Tris Speaker today looked forward to his twentieth season in the American League as the center fielder of the Philadelphia Athletics.

The veteran outfielder came to terms with Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, over the telephone last night, and will report to the A's training camp at Fort Myers, Fla., on March 1.

"I arrived here from the south yesterday and talked to Connie over the long distance telephone at Mount Pleasant, Fla., and decided to accept his offer," Speaker said. "We are both satisfied with the terms."

Speaker probably took a cut off the salary he received at Washington last year in order to continue in major league baseball. He was said to have received $30,000 for last season's work with the Senators and an additional $30,000 for signing a contract.

Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, released Speaker because he did not care to assume the heavy salary of the veteran outfielder for another year.

"There were no hard feelings between myself and Bucky Harris," Speaker said. "My stay with the Senators was most pleasant."

Mack plans to use Speaker in center field, Al Simmons in left and Bing Miller, obtained from the St. Louis Browns in right, with Walter French as first substitute. This line-up gives the Athletics a strong outfield on both offensive and defense.

Speaker played in 142 games with the Senators last season and batted .327.

For almost twenty years, Speaker has ranked with Ty Cobb and Walter Johnson as one of the foremost stars of the American League. He broke in with the Red Sox in 1908, playing there for eight seasons.

In 1926 he was sold to Cleveland for $55,000 and in 1919 succeeded Lee Fohl as manager of the Indians. The next season, 1920, he piloted the Indians to their first world's championship. He remained with Cleveland until after the 1926 season when he was given his outright release.

SEKYRA TO MEET GEMAS TONIGHT

FORMER IS PROMINENT CONTENDER FOR LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

New York, Feb. 6.—(UP) — Joe Sekyra of Dayton, O., prominent contender for the light heavyweight title, will meet George Gemas of Philadelphia in a scheduled 10-round bout at the St. Nicholas arena tonight.

If Sekyra wins, he probably will be matched with Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen, Wash., Assassin, and the victor paired with Tommy Loughran, 175-pound champion, in a title bout in March.

BEAT WRIGHT IS LEGION CAGERS' AIM WEDNESDAY

LOCALS GAIN CONFIDENCE AFTER THEIR DECISIVE VICTORY OVER FRAZEE

MGR. PETERSON ANNOUNCES POSSIBILITY OF GAME WITH JOESTING'S FIVE

Recovering from the sting of the disastrous road tour by their overwhelming victory over the Frazee five, the Brainerd American Legion cagers were confident today as they prepared for the Wednesday evening game at the Brainerd high school gymnasium with the Wright five.

Wright's threat will be met by Brainerd's strong offensive. The visitors have played the season with few losses and many victories over championship district teams. Manager Lester Peterson announced that his team is in fine shape and will put up the battle of their lives to come through with a victory.

The preliminary battle will be staged between the Comets and Foster's Speed Demons. The management is making arrangements with the Legion Auxiliary orchestra to play.

"We hope for a large attendance Wednesday evening," said Manager Lester Peterson today. "If Brainerd will support us, we will arrange a game with the 151st Field Artillery basketball team of Minneapolis which is benig led by Herb Joesting. It is possible we can get the team here for February 29 if plans go through."

The Legion team will play the Cold Springs five on February 15 for top place in the Central Minnesota Basketball League. The Cold Springs team defeated St. Cloud last week.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
